

3 Replies | Latest reply on Jan 30, 2017 4:26 PM by MarieMeyer

MarieMeyer Jan 30, 2017 4:01 PM

Shortcut for close without saving?

This question has been Answered.

Is there a shortcut for close without saving? I've doing a book-length project that will have a few thousand jpegs. After I've found the crop I like in the psd file I save it, change the image to size it will be used at, then save it as a jpg and then close the psd document without saving that last change (the reduction in size). It would be nice if I could avoid the "did you really mean to save without changing" dialog box.

Correct Answer

by Jeff Arola on Jan 30, 2017 4:10 PM

You could record an action of closing a file without saving and then assign a function key as a shortcut.

1248 Views

Tags:

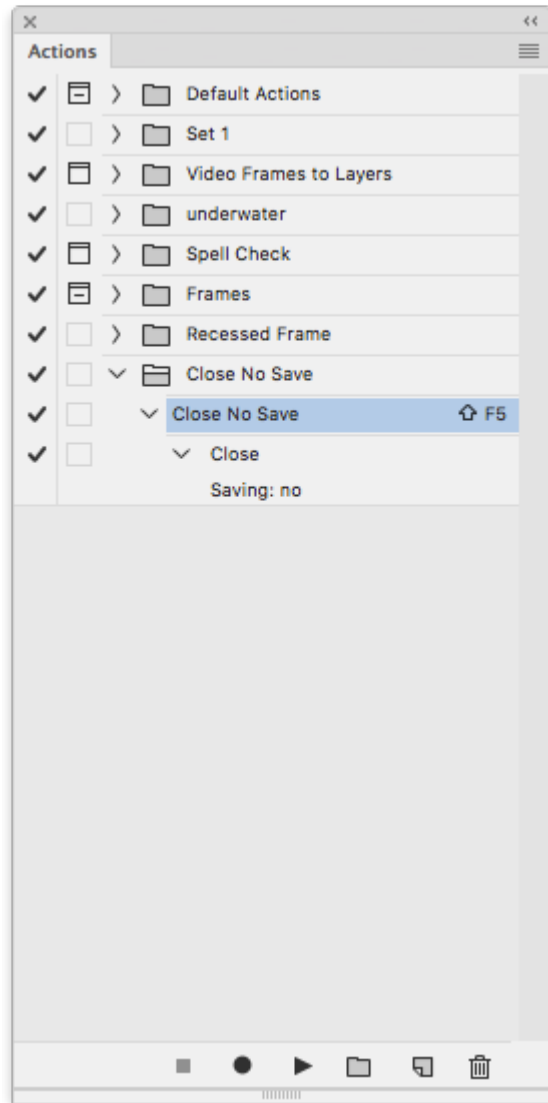

1 HELPFUL

ACP

Correct Answer 1. Re: Shortcut for close without saving?

You could record an action of closing a file without saving and then assign a function key as a shortcut.

Actions

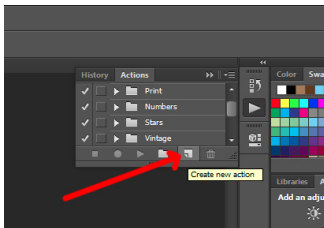

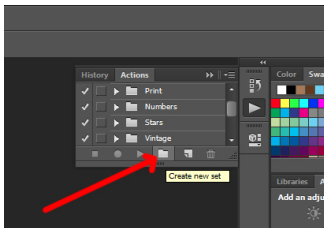

Like (0)

Benjamin Root Jan 30, 2017 4:09 PM (in response to MarieMeyer)

2. Re: Shortcut for close without saving?

Right before you close your next PSD, start an Action recording. Hit Ctrl+W or Cmd+W then choose "no" when it asks if you'd like to save. Stop the Action recording. Set a shortcut, such as Shift+F3, then use that to close the documents from now on.

Hope this helps!

1 person found this helpful

Actions

Like (0)

MarieMeyer Jan 30, 2017 4:26 PM (in response to Jeff Arola)

3. Re: Shortcut for close without saving?

OMG!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Actions

 Like (0)